Herman Here Wednesday

"The spirit of jazz is abundant, if you present it too grimly serious."

With this sentiment of music, Woody Herman and The Third Herd will present two concerts in Shroyok Auditorium Wednesday evening. The first one will be at 7 and the second one at 9 p.m. Herman has been commended for his "different" type of jazz. As he says, "the basic thing about jazz is that the music is meant to have a ball to — music to enjoy and to be happy with. Any time you weaken that, you lose."

"The first thing in jazz is to swing. And if you don't swing you are not in the jazz field. When you are swinging, you are competing with classical musicians and to tell the truth, Toscanini cuts you."

Verve Recorder

Herman, who has recently signed with Verve records, is one of the most popular bandleaders in the music business. A triple threat performer, he sings, plays the clarinet and also successfully conducts his band. "I've been in the music business a long, long time now," he commented. "Why do I continue to go out on tour and make those gruelling jumps from one nightstand to another nightstand? It's because the kids that come along, the young ones, are so much enthusiastic that it gives you the incentive to go on."

Commenting about the fellow who does all the musical scores for the Third Herd, Herman said "Ralph Burns is, I submit, a truly great American composer. The things he writes for us are serious, yet, at the same time they are a ball to play and a ball to hear. That's what makes them jazz. That's

Senate OK's Money-Making Events For Five Groups

Petitions for permission to conduct money-making events were the orders of business at the weekly Student Senate meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The policy-making body for social affairs met in the conference room of the Student Union with only nine of its regular sixteen members present. Miss Elizabeth Mullins, co-ordinator of student activities and Senate sponsor explained the poor attendance was due to the late convening of the various organizations which supply the membership to the Senate.

A petition authorizing Kappa Omicron Phi to sell donuts and coffee at the annual teachers' conference here on October 25 was approved. The profits from the sale will go into its working budget. Kappa Omicron Phi is a national honorary education fraternity.

'Let's Walk Day'

Unofficially, President Delve W. Morris has tagged Friday, Oct. 25 as "Let's Walk Day" for SIU students and faculty.

"Between two and three thousand students will be driving to the campus that day for a meeting of the Southern Division of the Illinois Education Association," Morris explained. "There will be great need for parking places for these cars."

All SIU classes except those in the College of Education will meet as scheduled on Oct. 25, the president said.

Although parking areas near University School, the Library, the Student Office, and Anthony Hall will be reserved for the teachers, even more parking space is left to be needed.

To make certain SIU's guests will be able to continue on the campus, the University Education will serve only I.E.A. members between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Students and faculty who normally take their meals in the cafeteria are asked to make other arrangements for that day.

"All of us can relieve the general parking problem and avoid personal parking inconvenience on Oct. 25 simply by leaving our cars at home," Morris said. "Wherever possible, let's walk or share rides to the campus on I.E.A. day."

From 1923 to 1927, informal teas, pep meetings, an alumni breakfast, and formal society reunions were added to the program.

First Queen

The first homecoming queen, Len Davis, was elected in 1927.

Ten years later, Southern played its first Homecoming football game in McAndrew Stadium before a record crowd of 4,500. Western was the winner of the contest.

Homecoming progressed through the years, with bigger and better games. Last year, 1956, the festivities began with a kickoff assembly in McAndrew stadium. A pep rally and bonfire announced Mr. and Miss Freshman.

One thousand people attended the play, "Night Must Fall," presented by the Southern Players. The homecoming parade consisted of 47 bands and 25 floats. Trophies were given for the best house decorations and floats. Southern's opponent for the big game was Western. The climax of last year's gala affair was the breakfast held in the University cafeteria following the game.

Salute To Southern

This year, SIU, with its enrollment of over 6,000 on campus, has planned the biggest and finest Homecoming to date. The theme, "Salute to Southern," will provide a basic overall celebration while the houses will be decorated according to the theme, "Literary Salute." The parade will be composed of floats depicting "Musical Salutes." Among the events planned for the alumni and student body are various teas and luncheons, the bonfire, a breakfast, stage show, the game, the parade, and the dance.

From the first Homecoming on Amistice Day in 1921 to this year, Homecoming at SIU has 'grown up'.

The following year, 1922, saw the addition of the Homecoming Parade, then known as Hobo Parade, and a dance after the football game. SIU won the game 12-7 from Cape Girardeau. In addition a tug-of-war was held between the classes on Homecoming Day.

10 O'CLOCK RUSH
On any day of the week there is a rush of students toward the Student Union. Ten o'clock spells breather, coffee, gossip, or perhaps, study. Ten a. m. spells havoc in the Union as the classrooms empty. One for all and all for fun.

BEFORE—OR AFTER
At 9:50 or 10:50 a. m. the entrance to the Union is generally empty. The Union is empty. Much of the crowd will leave before 11 a. m. but others will continue to stagger in throughout the day, so while the walkways are void, the Union will be busy.

Mlle. Nadia Boulanger - World-Renowned Composition Teacher Here Next Spring

Mlle. Nadia Boulanger, one of the world's most renowned teachers of composition, will arrive at SIU next spring for a two-week visit.

Mlle. Boulanger, founder and head of the American Conservatory of Music at Fontainebleau, was the first woman to conduct the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Many of the best-known contemporary American composers were students of Mlle. Boulanger, including Roy Harris who was a visiting professor of music on campus last year. Other outstanding musicians who were students of Mlle. Boulanger are Aaron Copland, Walter Piston, Marc Blitzstein, Virgil Thomson, Clara Haskil, Pierre Fournier and Darius Milhaud.

Retiring at 70
Today at 70, Mlle. Boulanger has decided to retire from her position at the Conservatory. She will continue private teaching in her Paris apartment.

Recently a story appeared in "Time" magazine on a party given by Mlle. Boulanger's friends to celebrate her birthday. One of her gifts was a $3,000 diamond given to her by her many friends and students.

Mlle. Boulanger will spend most of her time while on campus with the faculty and students in the undergraduate and the graduate music program. She will also devote a four-day period to students and teachers from other institutions in a special series of seminars in Paris apartment.

Registrar Handles Program Changes

Name change . . . address different . . . parent's address changed? Any change should be reported to the Registrar's Office as soon as possible.

The change is accomplished by the student's completing a Change of Address form which is routed to the appropriate University offices.

Any change in personal data such as name, marital status, or legal residence should be reported to the Registrar's Office also next time the student registers after the change has taken place.

In some cases a change in personal data requires the furnishing of legal proof, the nature of which can be indicated at the time the change is reported. Personal data changes require the Personal Data form.

SIU 'Ham' Operator Hears 'Beep' From Earth Satellite

By Bill Christie

When the crystal set was in its heyday, Rudy Vallee used to wangle "My Time Is Your Time" amid static interference galore, and swooners thought nothing of it. Over the past week, the new generation's ham radio operators were welcoming such similar disturbances. If they sound like a "beep," they have to be good, and if they sound good long enough, a new word has been born.

This mass frenzy over a beep here and a beep there started Friday, when the Soviet Union, all ways good for a tall tale, announced that it had successfully launched an earth satellite. Shortly thereafter, several million people arrived at the point that this was no joke by the Russians; they were in earnest about their baby moon, and this basketball-sized vehicle was making the rounds at 18,000 miles per hour.

Search Was On
Simultaneously, with the announcement that the sphere was the real McCoy and the Reds weren't fakin', a few million hams operators scoured for their transmitters. The search for the big beep was on.

In Carbondale, a young man named Terry Thalman went to his basement dial Monday morning.

'Lady In Dark' Cast Completed

The Southern Players have completed casting and are beginning rehearsals on their first production of the 1957-58 season—"Lady in the Dark."

The musical comedy by Moss Hart, Ira Gershwin and Kurt Weill, will be presented at 8 p. m. Oct. 28 and continue through November 2.

It is under the magical direction of William Taylor and stage direction of Dr. Sherwin Abrams.

The play, set in present day, concerns the struggles and temptations of Liza Elliott as she attempts to maintain a woman's place in a man's world. It kaleidoscopes from reality to fantasy with lavish costumes and settings.

Cast Named

The role of Liza Elliott, the woman who couldn't make up her mind, will be played by Rebecca Burroughs. Kendall Nesbitt, the publisher, played by Alan Krebs; Randy Curtis, a movie star, played by Burke Fry; and an advertising man, Charles Johnson, played by Richard Gibson. Liza's psychiatrist, Brooks, will be portrayed by James Aud.

Workers on "Allure," the woman's magazine that Liza publishes are: Niole Martinetti, Nedra Gay and James Lush. Others in the cast are Joan Lemmon, Marcia Swinney, June Nighovine, Carolyn Carson, Carolyn Keeper, Paul Wilson, John Wilkinson and Jerry Henderson.

Before long he had picked up an honest-to-goodness beep. Terry said that it lasted for about six minutes, give or take a beep, and already the day was a success.

Thalman, son of Dr. W. A. Thalman of the SIU faculty, has quite a hobby, even before the beep. In a well-lit nook of his home basement he has a 1,000 watt transmitter, which is able to receive most amateur bands on the network. Terry also has an emergency transmitter, which he keeps on continually, for civil defense warnings.

"It's fascinating, all right," Thalman said, as he maneuvered his local dial on the main transmitter. The Russian invention, he said, was not distinguishable from the other sounds that were coming from atmospheric conditions, a din, besides, it only visits the United States about twice a day, for a midnight snack and a sandwich at luncheon.

"I tried to get the missile's signal three times," Thalman said, as he tuned in on a fellow ham from Canada. "But I only had luck twice. Monday night I couldn't get anything."

But Monday morning about 10 o'clock I was receiving the signal again, only it seemed to go haywire. Early Monday morning when I first heard it, the sound was a steady beep-beep-beep, but later it was going something like beeper-beeper-beeper. Then after a while in the evening I lost contact with the sound altogether. It was not distinguishable from the other sounds that were coming from atmospheric conditions, a din."

A sophomore at SIU, Thalman said that he had been in the ham radio business for about five years now and keeps a log book in accordance with the Federal Communications Commission, has talked several times on an international basis. He thumbed through the pages, reviewing his communications with Australia, France, Africa and Japan.

Crack Ham
"About a year ago," he said, "I talked to a ham in Czechoslovakia, so apparently some radio operators are allowed to transmit behind the Iron Curtain."

Thalman went to the top of his transmitter, to finger a redwood antenna box. "I's hooked up to a beam antenna on the roof out back," he said. "On high frequencies, it improves the reception considerably." He talked like a fellow who had faith, and knowledge that his beep isn't over until the last satellite is out.

Home Game Tomorrow Night

Saluki Lineup Jumbled For Eastern Game

There's been some changes made. Only four men, out of the original eleven that began the 1957 season as first-string Salukis, may start tomorrow night's game with Eastern Illinois University in McAndrew Stadium.

Coach Al Kaval, under the effects of flu himself during the past week, is having a hard time deciding which men to insert in the starting lineup. The Salukis, with injuries added to injuries, will be looking for their initial IIAC victory when they entertain the Panthers here tomorrow night.

Rushing—Brown Out?

Captain Marion Rushing and defensive star Willie Brown are both expected to be in the thick of action before the evening's play is finished, but may not be lined up for the opening kickoff.

Rushing, last week's Lineman of the Week, is hampered by a troublesome leg injury, while Willie Brown will be playing with what doctor's call a "hair fractured rib."

Also missing from the starting lineup may be first-stringers Ron Bishop, James Lynch, Richard Carpenter, Carver Shannon and Rannette Lewis.

Shannon, who missed last week's game because of a head injury received against Arkansas State will not start at right halfback, but will be ready for action. Shannon's running mate, Rannette Lewis, is being replaced in the starting eleven by "Night Train" Lane Jenkins.

Abramovitch At Center

Kaval's ends, if Rushing is unable to start, will be Clyde Ross at right end and Richard Dawson at left end.

The only Saluki completely out of contention for play tomorrow night is Carpenter, who was injured by a clipping infraction against Western last weekend.

Eastern Is Winless

Eastern's Panthers will be looking for their opening win of the season, as they have dropped three straight. They lost their opener to Indiana State 14-0, lost to SE Missouri 41-0 and last week dropped an IIAC squeaker to Northern 27-20.

The Eastern-IIAC clash will continue Southern's oldest rivalry, which started in 1913. Southern holds a 21-16 edge in the series, which has had only one tie (0-0 in 1945).

The Salukis have won the last five in a row from Eastern, and is the favorite in tomorrow's game.

Blow 13-0 Lead

Against Northern last week, Eastern led 13-0 before seeing their lead diminish before the Huskie passing attack. Eastern led in first downs 20-8, outpassed Northern 213-158, and outpassed them 101-70.

Eastern tossed 15 aerials against Northern, completing five, and the Panthers are expected to take to the air frequently against Southern.

The Eastern Lineup will have three freshmen at line positions, and two first-year men in the back field. The line averages 188 pounds, compared to Southern's 201.

Eastern will start freshman Jerry Van Belle, a 17-year old 190-pounder from Charleston, Ill., at fullback, and go with either freshman Vernon Myers or Perry Thomas at left half.

Salukis Favored

From comparative scores, despite Southern's two consecutive losses, the Salukis stand out as a two or three touchdown favorite against the Panthers.

The Salukis are injured, especially in the riddled line ranks, but backs like Jenkins, Kilpatrick, Shannon, Hart, Hamilton Restivo, Norwood, Lewis and possibly Miles give the Kavalmen a decided edge.

William Filson, Kenneth Wilson, Herb Scheffer, and Ted Tilden will officiate the 8 p. m. game.

Bill Norwood, Rushing Take Honors

Billy Norwood and Marion Rushing were awarded the Egyptian Lineman and Back of the Week awards for their performances against Western Illinois University last Friday night.

This marks the second consecutive week Captain Rushing has received the honor, after sharing it with guard Bill Brown last week. The Puckinville senior played only a few minutes during the second half because of leg injury, but his outstanding play during the first half earned him the honor.

Norwood, Southern's starting quarterback for 3 straight games saw almost 60 minutes of action against Western, as his replacement in earlier games, Dave Wheeler, was sidelined with a shoulder injury.

Bill engineered both SIU touchdowns, scoring one himself, and completed eight of 22 passes. Six of his passes were dropped in open territory by Saluki receivers.

Norwood is a 165-pound junior from Centralia, Ill.

IIAC Race Remains A Tossup

Instate rivalries are the feature of football action in the Interstate Athletic Conference this week with all teams scheduled to play their second IIAC game by Saturday night.

Three schools—Western Illinois, Eastern Michigan, and Northern Illinois—are undefeated in league play. Two of these three schools met Saturday afternoon at DeKalb when the pass-minded Northern Huskies tackle the Western Leathernecks for the Northern Homecoming.

The Eastern Michigan Hurons will be at home Friday night to the Central Michigan Chippies in a night game for both schools. The Chippies, defeated for the first time in 12 league games by the Illinois Normal Redbirds last Saturday, would be out of the league race with a second loss.

The Southern Illinois Salukis are hosts for a Saturday night game with the Eastern Illinois Panthers. Both eleven's will be trying for their first IIAC victory.

The Illinois Normal Redbirds, only team to play two league games thus far, move to Beloit, Wis., for a non-conference match Saturday afternoon. The Redbirds are 1-1 in league play.

SPORTS VIEWS FROM A DIFFERENT ANGLE

Lacrosse Sounds
Will the "Night Train" from Lake Charles, La., roar into a permanent spot in the Saluki backfield tomorrow night?

Evidently coach Al Kaval is willing to give the freshman speedster a chance, for he had indicated that Jenkins is a probable starting left halfback, running beside another promising lad, Tom Kilpatrick.

Kaval and SIU fans present at Macomb last Friday night were quite impressed by the speed and hustle shown by "Night Train" . . . whose actual name is Lane Jenkins.

Kilpatrick also played some outstanding ball before leaving the contest because of an injury he received when Western's Garzon decided to plow through the entire Saluki ball club.

Cecil Hart, who pleased Kaval with his aggressive style of ball-carrying, should also see considerable time in Southern's backfield, and is an outside chance to make the starting lineup.

The 21-year-old Freshman
Jenkins, who saw only a few seconds action in Southern's last home game against Arkansas State, is a native of Lake Charles, La.

In high school, he ran from several backfield positions as well as playing end, and was captain and most valuable player, as well as receiving all-state mention in Louisiana.

"Night Train's" fame, however, cannot be confined to the gridiron, as he brings an impressive high school track record to SIU with him.

He has run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat, the 440 in 48.9, the 100 low hurdles in 18.8. He broad jumped 23 feet, has high jumped 6 ft., and throws the javelin 100 feet.

Tom Kilpatrick, 18 year old sophomore from Memphis, Tenn., may replace Carver Shannon in the starting lineup. Shannon, who finished hot on the heels of now-professional Jim Podoley in the IAC scoring race last year, missed last week's game because of the flu and a head injury. He is expected to be in top shape for the Eastern contest . . . but may have to earn his job back from the fancy-stepping Kilpatrick.

"Kil" was captain and All-Memphis his senior year in high school, and is majoring in pre-dentistry at SIU.

Against Western last week, the 6 foot, 190-pounder carried the Saluki pigskin seven times and gained 39 yards. He was injured on Western's astounding touchdown punt-return in the third quarter and sat out the remainder of the game.

Coach Kaval is silent about Southern's chances against Eastern tomorrow night . . . but it is no secret that the Panthers are expected to be the conference cellar-dwellers this season.

Despite pessimistic words from Southern's camp . . . and the influx of bruises and charley-horses filling "Doc" Spackman's training room . . . the Salukis are still a three touchdown better club than Eastern.

The game will not be a run-war . . . especially if Butler SIU tackling allows a few more chase-the-rabbit punt-return touchdowns like it did against Western last week.

A strong, speedy and versatile Saluki backfield will make the difference in a game that may end somewhere in the neighborhood of 38-20 SIU . . . and a game that should put the Salukis back on the road toward an IAC title-chase.

Assistant football coach Bob Franz, who has seen competing teams play more this year than his own Salukis, will be on the road again this weekend.

Bob will be in Michigan watching the Chippewas from Central battle their arch-rivals, the Eastern Michigan Hurons. Eastern is favored in the contest, but competition is keen between the two neighboring IAC schools, and anything Southern's University Press was established in 1953 and carried out the publishing and printing functions of the university.

Departments of the Press are the Art Service, Photographic Service, and Printing Service.

Publications of the Press include the university catalogs, the Annual Report of the Business Manager, the Registrar's Report, the Southern Illinois Business Bulletin, and other bulletins.

may happen. Southern still has both teams to play, with Central coming here Nov. 9 for the Saluki homecoming game.

The Athletic Department has announced that two gates will be available for SIU students at tomorrow night's game, instead of the customary single gate. SIU students and only students, may enter the gate at the north end of the east stands, near the flagpole.

Jayvees Drop Tight One To Eastern

A pass-happy Eastern Illinois Jayvee football team downed Southern's "B" squad here last Monday afternoon 12-7.

The visitors scored the winning TD with only 1:45 remaining in the game, which was played before a small crowd in McAndrew Stadium.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Ken Brashier, a 150-pound Cami, Ill. freshman, Bob Monken, a sophomore lineman from Belleville, Dick Downey, a freshman fullback from Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Ray Oliver, Jacksonville halfback.

SIU led in the game 7-0 and later 7-6, before the small 18-man traveling squad of Eastern's took the lead before the final gun.

INDEE BOWLING
Four teams—Stearns Residence, Newman Club No. 2, Doyle Dorm and the Brown Jug—are tied for first place in the SIU Students Independent Bowling League after the first week of action Monday night at the Carbondale Alleys.

Stearns, showing the most strength of the leaders, won two out of three games from Chautauqua Co-op, and was awarded a third point for the top total pinfall. Under league regulations, one point is given for each victory and one point for high series pinfall.

Pacing the Stearns attack was Bob Gaubatz, who capped a 546 series with a 209 masterpiece, good for high single of the night.

Newman Club No. 2, the defending champion, took three of the four points from the Egyptians. Joe Ducey's 208 single and 486 series sparked the winners.

Doyle Dorm, with Don Schroeder contributing a 501 effort, took the odd game and the fourth point from the Chemistry Dept. entry.

Inside the . . . INTRAMURALS

The campus recreation department has arranged for SIU students to ride horses, if desired, at the Colp Stables, on the following dates:

Sunday afternoon—Oct. 13 and Nov. 3

Saturday afternoon—Oct. 19 and Oct. 26

The Colp Stables are located one mile west of the SIU cafeteria, and horses will be available for students at 1:30 p. m.

Engle Is Top Gaffer
Bud Engle, with a winning shot landing 10' 11" from the cup, is the new Intramural hole-in-one golf champion. John Murphy, 11' 1/2" was second, and Roy Fowley, 16' 11" was third.

The Intramural badminton tourney will begin Oct. 17 and entries are due at the Intramural office by Oct. 16.

Southern's Photographic Service is staffed and equipped to serve nearly every photographic need of the University.

The Service covers news, publicity, teaching aids, photocopying, exhibits, portraits, identification photos, campus publications, color photography, motion pictures, and instruction in photography.

And in the other match of the evening, the Brown Jug and Newman Club No. 1 shared four points. The Jug had the edge in games, 2 to 1, but considerable handicap enabled the Newman Club to take total pinfall honors.

Off The Cuff

Take a deep breath. Is that the smell of leaves burning?

It may be fall, but it's still warm in the sun. Just the same, if you're collapsed in the shade lately, you know that summer is gone. It's time for something more than a shirt.

Being a student myself, I like to stroll through the Student Union and look at all the coeds and guys taking the all-favorite course of Students' Union 101 held any time you have a few spare minutes. You'd be surprised at the styles you may see waving by you any hour of the day. With this cool weather setting in on us lately, I'll try to give some helpful advice and hints about doings and wearings this fall.

Knit Shirts Warm

A long-sleeved knit shirt is pretty comfortable along about now—just warm enough for these cool nights and early mornings.

Those traversing the Thompson Woods will have to agree with this. The shirts are available at Tom Mcfield's.

Now don't get these new knit shirts confused with the old polo shirts. The newest knit shirts are cut just like a regular shirt, complete with button-down collars. I, the solid color, red is a natural. Loden green is growing fast in popularity, too. Stripes are always good.

I've seen a few students around campus swinging to the ones with a horizontal stripe across the chest, designed after the Italian style. Men, how long will it be until the girls confiscate this model from us? I'm giving odds that it won't be too long.

There's a good choice of fabrics in this season. Beside the old standby, the flat knit cotton, there are now all-cottons that look tweedy and woolly. A new Oxford wool construction creates a fabric that is both warm and washable.

They'd be great for a week-end trip to another campus or football game. These little gems offer a minimum of wrinkling and quick drying just in case you get carried away and spill something. Whichever you pick, and whatever pattern of color you like, they'll all look pretty sharp.

Of course there are times when the handsomest knit shirt is too informal. If you want a warm comfortable shirt that's still dressy enough for dinner off campus with that favorite coed, the new cambridge cloth shirts fill the bill.

These are made of brushed cotton, and the great thing about them is that they feel almost as soft as cashmere. The solid colors, such as blue or ivory can be worn any place you'd wear a good oxford button-down model. The Ivy League styling, with the new short-pointed button-down collar makes a great shirt for almost any occasion.

For the sportier look, the broken line checks and stripes are just the thing.

So what about slacks for all these fancy shirts? You ask. Well, the old standby, the grey flannel slacks is always good. If it's time for a new pair of slacks, a medium grey will be more popular than the charcoal that was the rage last year. As you can see from looking around, slacks are a little narrower this year and look very good especially the pleated front models.

One word of caution: even if you have a new grey flannel suit, don't use the pants as slacks. You'll find it's economy in the long run to have slacks that are worn only with sports jackets. Nothing looks worse than a suit with a new jacket and baggy pants. Wear the suit as a suit, and it'll last you twice as long.
